

RED CROSS HEADS
GREET JAPANESEMission Here on Way to the Battle Front to Study Society's Methods.

WELCOMED BY NURSES

Officials of Branch in the Mikado's Land to View
Sights of New York.Seven high officials of the Japanese Red Cross on their way from the Land of the Rising Sun to the battle front in France for the purpose of studying Red Cross methods there arrived last night at the Pennsylvania station.Save for the presence of a handful of Japanese officers in khaki uniforms the delegation might have passed for a group of Japanese business or professional men on their way to attend a convention of some sort. They were met by a reception committee from the Atlantic Division and the New York County Chapter of American Red Cross nurses by Ethan Allen.A hundred or more white-robed Red Cross nurses also were on hand to welcome the delegation, and they formed a solid line from the station to the main waiting room to Thirty-fourth street, through which the visitors passed to the way to the automobiles that were waiting to carry them to the Waldorf.
Conspicuous among the nurses were twenty diminutive Japanese women residents of New York, who, like their American sisters, carried a Red Cross flag in one hand and the commercial bag of Japan in red ball on a white background—in the other.

Nurses Are Introduced.

The Japanese nurses were presented to the head of the visiting commission, and each acknowledged the compliment with a pretty little Madame Butterfly bow. The commission is composed of Dr. A. Minakawa, Dr. S. Sawamura, Dr.
Y. Naito, S. Kageyama, H. Loshizawa, C. Fujimori and Count K. Kato.The visit of the commission to the Atlantic Division and the New York
nurses is a general speeding up of Japanese war relief activities in Europe.
The Japanese Red Cross was organized in 1917 and now has a membership of 727,449. Soon after the start of the war in Europe it extended the scope of its philanthropic work to Europe for the first time in its history, despatching three divisions to England, Russia, and France.As part of the entertainment programme arranged by the Atlantic Division and the New York County Chapter of the American Red Cross the commission will be taken to the financial district this morning. They will see the Stock Exchange and the Woolworth Building and then be taken to lunch at the Union Club by Ethan Allen.In the afternoon they will be conveyed in automobiles to the aviation field at Mineola, where they will witness some exhibition flights by army aviators.

Guests of H. P. Davidson.

From Mineola they will accompany Henry P. Davidson to his summer home at Locust Valley, where they will remain until Monday, when they will return to the city to make a tour of inspection of the various Red Cross headquarters.
They will also visit the Botanical Garden, where a luncheon will be served for them by the New York County Chapter of the American Red Cross. After luncheon at 4 o'clock in the afternoon they will take tea in the Red Cross consultant house connected with General Allen.On their way from San Francisco the party stopped at Chicago last Sunday and paid a visit to the Great Lakes Army Training Station. In Washington they were guests at dinner given by Viscount Ishii and were taken to Camp Meade, where they were received by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and a committee of the Red Cross. They were then leaving the capital yesterday an audience was granted to them by the President.
